County to Vote on Tax Transfer Saturday

A special election will be held in Randall county Saturday on the proposal of transferring the state 30 cent ad valorem tax to the county road and bridge fund. The money derived from the tax would be used for the purpose of building farm-to-market roads in Randall county by the Commissioners' Court.

Announcement was made recently by the State Highway Commission that all of the state's money was exhausted and that no more money would be available for farm-to-market roads unless furnished by the counties.

When the constitutional amendment was adopted last year to abolish the 30 cent tax for ad valorem purposes, the provision was made that the counties might transfer the 30 cent state tax to the road and bridge fund. More than 50 counties of Texas have so far taken advantage of this provision and have voted in favor of this transfer. There will be no increase in state and county taxes because of this change in the rate, with less money going to the state treasury, and more money staying at home to be used for road and bridge purposes.

The News will not receive the election returns Saturday night as is the usual custom in primary and general elections because of the lack of interest in the election.

Of the 3500 eligible voters in Randall county, not more than one-third of this number is expected to go to the polls. So far there has been very little opposition expressed to the transfer of the fund.

Local Stores Start Dollar Day Sept. 7th

September 7 has been designated as the first Dollar Day in Canyon.

Dollar Day will be observed the first Friday in each month following the initial day, according to a vote of local merchants which was held Monday night at a luncheon held by the Chamber of Commerce at the College Cafeteria.

More than 20 business firms were represented in the meeting which considered the best day for holding the monthly Dollar Day events. A vote was finally taken for the best day in the week for such an event, and Friday was selected as the best day by an overwhelming majority.

All business firms in Canyon are urged by the Chamber of Commerce to get behind this monthly event and to help put it over.

Friday was the day selected in view of the fact that Monday is observed as Dollar Day in several neighboring towns.

Advertising in The Canyon News for the first Friday in each month will feature Dollar Day, and all firms are urged to co-operate by making this event attractive.

Cliff Mlinar, director of the Chamber, stated that the organization would add attractions which would assist in bringing people to Canyon for the monthly event. A program is being arranged for each day, and business firms were advised that they should assist in this event.

Al Kieselbach, speaking as a consumer and customer, urged honesty in advertising, and real bargains for this monthly event. Unless the business firms co-operate the day had best not be started.

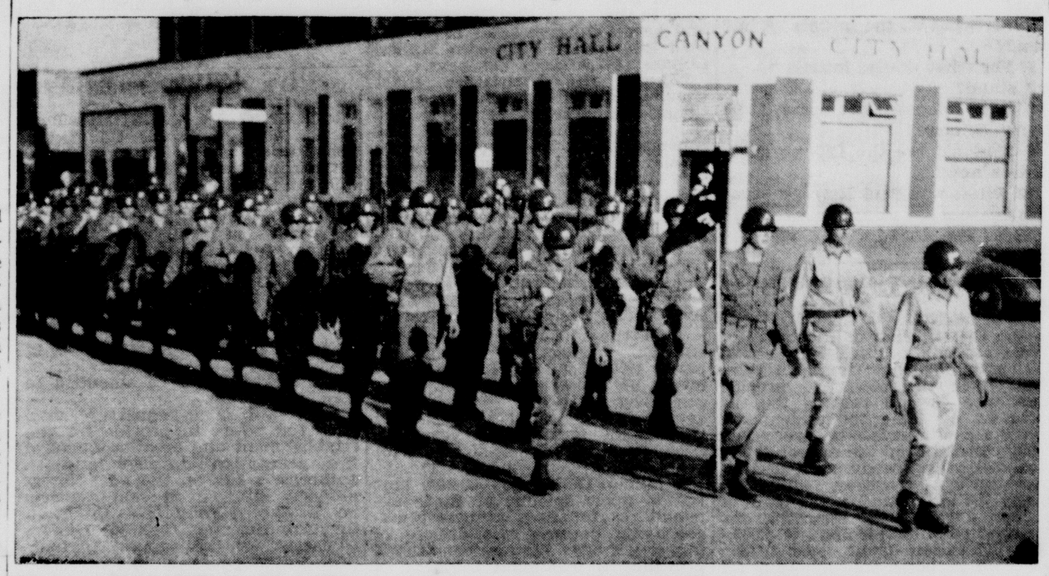

W. W. Sternenberg, president of the Chamber, introduced Cecil Massey, secretary, who had devoted a great deal of time in study of the situation. Mr. Massey stated that only two days had been suggested, Friday and Monday.

Bob Bellah favored Friday since the grocers could co-operate with their regular weekly specials.

Others favoring the Dollar Day were W. O. Parker, Bernard Warren, Mrs. Lila McDonald, Clyde Warwick, Ray Campbell, Delbert Lowes, Mrs. H. K. McCaskill, and several others who were present and spoke briefly on the subject.

The Chamber gave the first of a series of luncheons which will be held during the year for the purpose of getting together local business men and women to discuss the needs of the community.

Company F Left Saturday For Annual Camp

Captain Donald Olson leads Company F on a parade through Canyon Saturday on the way to the depot where the unit embarked for the annual two weeks training period.

Officers and men of National Guard Company F paraded before the Canyon public in true military fashion Saturday evening. The advance units had already preceded the main force in leaving for the two weeks of camp training.

Leading the parade was the police car of the chief with one of Canyon's fire trucks following it. Cub scouts followed the main body of Company F as they marched to the depot to catch the train.

Approximately 100 cars followed the boys to the depot. Many people witnessed the heart-warming send-off that was arranged by the Canyon Chamber of Commerce. Cecil Massey was instrumental in creating a great interest in the send-off and also in arranging a parting gift for the boys.

Because of the Chamber of Commerce, the boys of Company F had a breakfast of sweet rolls, cookies, bananas, oranges, and apples instead of the K-rations that had been planned for their first morning on the train.

Company F members include Captain Donald M. Olson, commander, 1st Lt. Mabrey C. Vandergriff, and Warrant Officer James O. Huffman.

Those holding M-Sgt. rank are: Jack A. Barnett, Preston D. Prichard and Don H. Tucker. While Sergeant First Class ranks are held by: Jerry D. Bollen, Donald J. Briggs, James P. Lindsey, Charles F. Peckenpaugh, and Clinton E. Williams.

The rating of sergeant is held by Billy G. Bible, Earl C. Burtz, Marvin E. Kinney, Edward E. Morris, Harold J. Prichard and Carroll P. Vaughn.

Those of Company F with a Corporal rating are Bennie W. Bonnington, Fredrick R. Byard, Marvin Fite, Robert E. O'Donald, David Pevehouse and Thomas E. Tucker.

The rating of Private First Class is held by James T. Bible, Louis A. Burrus, Bennie J. Cupell, Shirley M. Downing, Chalmer H. Keeton, Billy J. McCarter, Joe W. Ogden, Sam E. Raburn, Donald W. Roberson, Raymond G. Rogers, Burney B. Slack and Bennie B. Woods.

Those with the rank of Private number 21; they are: Billy E. Abbott, Robert W. Booth, Paul E. Boswell, Austin H. Bowes, Troy L. Burrus, Horace D. Carter, David F. Fulton, Clarence J. Maynard, and Charles W. Mobley.

The remainder of the men holding the rank of Private in National Guard's Company F, are: Alvin B. Morris, Stanley D. Schaeffer, Dennis W. Walling, Melvin I. Williams, Joe D. Abbott, Cloyd C. Adams, Alvy L. King, Clyde A. Root, Norris E. Root, Arnold W. Welch, Hollis B. Maynard and Charles F. Lindsey.

No Gaps Will Be Left When Paving Starts

When the city paving job is completed there will be no gaps or leave outs because property owners object to paying the city their part of the new paving.

This plan has been adopted by the City Commission as being the most economical way to handle the paving job, both as to construction and as to maintenance.

In case any property owner refuses to pay his share of the paving, the city will simply take a lien against the property, which must be paid before the property may be sold. The city may be forced to carry this paper, but the property owner will eventually have to pay up, together with interest on the paper carried by the city.

It is stated that construction on the paving will get underway just as quickly as work is finished on the highway widening through Canyon.

Dope Is Found In Vault of Old Bank Building

While the old vault of the First National Bank was being cleared out Thursday morning, a package was discovered which was suspicious in character.

W. C. Black and L. W. Cole decided to open the package, which had been in the vault for several years.

They were amazed to find 900 morphine tablets and a quantity of other dope which might bring fancy prices on the black market.

Federal authorities were called to take charge of the dope. Bill Lampe, deputy marshal, was here Friday morning to inspect the package.

From the wrapping and labels on the packages it is evident that the dope had been in the vault for several years. If placed there by a customer of the Bank, it was either forgotten, or the party who brought it became frightened that he would be arrested for having such a large amount of morphine on hand.

The mystery is complete.

Free Shows to Start Program Of Recreation

The closing of the outdoor activities of the Canyon Recreational Department is definitely not the end of recreation for the youth of this community. The Recreation Council announces a free movie each month for the Canyon youngsters. Usually you hear of something being free to children if accompanied by their parents. This show is different, it's free to parents, if accompanied by their children.

The first show will be Saturday morning, August 25, at 9:30 in the Olympic Theater. The show, "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm" will be paid for by Lane's Ice Cream. The Olympic Theater and its facilities will be at the disposal of the Recreation Council through the generosity of W. J. Wooten. Charlie Donnell will be donating his time to operating the machinery in the projection room.

At each of these free shows, that are to be held once a month until further notice, there will be a speaker. This speaker, a well qualified man in his field, will give the youngsters valuable pointers on health, safety or some other topic highly important to future progress.

Demand For Rent Houses On Increase

There is never a day passing here at The Canyon News office when from one to five persons do not call asking for a place to rent.

The situation is tragic. Folks want to move to Canyon, if they can get a home in which to live, but they cannot find one for rent.

Those who have homes for rent should either run ads in The News at once, or list them with real estate men. Most of these folks are unable to pay high prices for inferior homes, but are willing to pay reasonable prices.

Cold Wave Hits Canyon, Dropping High Temperature

A cold wave hit the Panhandle Monday night, driving the temperature from the prevailing 100 degree mark down to 62 degrees above zero Tuesday night.

A light shower fell Tuesday, with only a trace being registered in Canyon.

While the farmers have been needing a good rain over this area, the cool weather will bring relief to the crops which have been suffering as a result of the drouth and hot weather.

Program Will Feature Bus Opening Friday

The first bus will run from Amarillo to the Palo Duro State Park Friday afternoon, leaving at 5:45 o'clock p. m. An additional bus will be run for the initial trip if needed.

Gordon K. Shearer, executive secretary, and R. W. Barker, assistant, of the Texas State Parks Board will be here to assist in initiating the new program.

A short program will be put on at the Sundowners Theatre at 8 o'clock, to which Canyon people are cordially invited. Sunset music will precede the program.

Senator Grady Hazlewood and State Representative Morris Cobb will make short talks.

During their trip here, the two Parks Board executives will go over plans of the Park with John McCarty in order that recommendations may be made for future development.

Will Rogers Days To Be Celebrated At Muleshoe, 30-31

John T. McDonald and Al Hall of Muleshoe presented a picture on Will Rogers at the Rotary Club luncheon Tuesday. The picture was shown in connection with the Will Rogers Memorial program which will be staged in Muleshoe on August 30-31.

The Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce asked permission of the Rogers family to stage such a program, and it was readily granted. Will Rogers had spent some time on a ranch near Muleshoe just two weeks before his untimely death in a plane crash with Wiley Post in Alaska. The picture was being shown to service clubs over this area.

Visitors were: Capt. M. D. Bafford of Decatur, Ill.; John Joe and Tom Davis Hill of Borger, grandsons of Dr. J. A. Hill; Berry Alvis of Clayton; Thurman Richardson and Howard Amick, of Panhandle; Kellis Turner of Odessa; John McCarty, Capt. Porter Oakes, Allen Early, Jr., Spencer E. Baird, Irving Tolzein, E. Kancer, J. E. Bowman, all of Amarillo; John T. McDonald and Al Hall of Muleshoe.

Treasure Hunt To Come to an End Sept. 3rd

The Third Annual Palo Duro Canyon Treasure Hunt will close at 6 o'clock Labor Day, September 3.

The event which has attracted hundreds of treasure seekers has been slow about yielding prizes this year. The coins, dropped from an airplane, late in June, have pretty well eluded searchers. Less than 300 of more than 2,300 prizes have been claimed to date. Many of the most attractive prizes remain unfound.

In addition to the Treasure coins, some 2,000 Peruvian and about 2,600 Mexican coins were dropped. These coins make beautiful souvenirs.

Finders of prize coins must report them to El Coronado Lodge by the 6 o'clock Labor Day deadline to claim their prizes. The prize certificates, however, will be honored by merchants until October 1.

New Deputy Takes Over Work Under Sheriff Cantrell

Sheriff M. E. Cantrell has a new deputy for his office and a new sign for his county jail. The sign on the rear of the building says, "County jail, penalty for talking to prisoners, stay away."

The new deputy is J. L. Pounds who was jailor under Grady Harrist of Lubbock for three years and deputy sheriff under Bill Adams of Amarillo for a half-a-dozen years. Now a resident of Canyon, Mr. Pounds is taking the place of W. B. (Burch) Campbell who resigned early in August. Mr. Campbell had been with Sheriff Cantrell since 1940. During this time his principal duty was tax collecting.

When the tax collector's office and the sheriff's office were separated last January 1, Mr. Campbell's duties changed to the routine task of being deputy sheriff. His resignation from this position was effective August 6 and August 16 he accepted a full time position in the tax collector's office with Bill Money, tax collector since January 1.

Ten Boys Pay Costs Of Spree Pulled in Palo Duro Park

Ten Amarillo boys were in Judge B. F. Machen's court Saturday and paid fines of $23 each for disturbing the peace in the Palo Duro State Park. All of the boys are members of prominent Amarillo families.

Two of the boys rented a cabin from John McCarty for a "quiet" evening. They gave fictitious names. The boys were joined by the others who proceeded to put on a spree, disturbing the neighboring occupants and destroying property at one of the cabins.

When accosted Sunday morning, they were hailed into court, pleading guilty and the penalty assessed.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Foster Laundry will be closed beginning Monday, August 27th, and will open again on September 3.

Cub Scout Pack 31 and Parents Enjoyed Picnic

About 15 members of the Cub Scout Pack 31 and their parents enjoyed a picnic at Canyon City Club Monday night. Those Cubs who earned credit since the last meeting received Bear badges as an advancement toward becoming a full fledged scout.

Cub Scout Packs are divided into sections known as Dens. Each den has a designated mother, an assistant mother and various officers. Advancements come through earned credits with the first award being a bobcat pin, the second a wolf badge, the third is the bear badge and the fourth and final one being the lion badge.

In Pack 31 the Cub Master is Dudley Bayne and the assistant master is Dr. C. R. Nester.

At present there is a definite need for workers among Canyon's full fledged boy scouts. Since R. E. Harrison moved to the country, which made it impossible for him to continue his work with the scouts, interest in the boys' activities has declined. There are many people in Canyon who are qualified to take the lead in scout activities. An active interest in the youth of today is necessary for the progress of our community in the future.

Dr. Samuel B. Johnson has received a promotion in the Navy to Lieutenant. He is assigned to the U. S. Naval Hospital at Quantico, Va., where he was assigned for practice after being loaned to the Army at Ft. Sill, Okla., for several months.

On July 19 he received a part time appointment as a fellow in the division of eye pathology of the Armed Forces Institute of Pathology, Washington, D. C.

Dr. Johnson is a son of Dr. and Mrs. Lee Johnson of Canyon. He was here a few months ago with his wife and baby before being transferred to Virginia.

Practically All Business Firms to Close Labor Day

Monday, September 3rd, will be Labor Day.

According to a survey taken last December by the Chamber of Commerce, 35 business firms agreed to close for the holiday; 13 indicated that they would not close; while six indicated that they were uncertain at that time.

It is taken for granted that a major part of the business firms will therefore close in order to observe the holiday.

4-H Club Meeting Held Friday in Office Patterson

A 4-H Club meeting was held last Friday afternoon in the office of Randall County Home Demonstration Agent, Miss Lou Ella Patterson. The purpose of the meeting was to kick-off the 1951 Texas 4-H Club electric contest, sponsored in this area by Southwestern Public Service Company.

"Singing Wires," a film portraying the difference electricity makes on a farm, was shown. Cliff Mlinar, manager of Southwestern Public Service Company in Canyon, Dale Thut, the projectionist, and Bob Lily, assistant editor and photographer for the company magazine, The Southwesterner, were instrumental in showing the film and explaining the contest.

Home Demonstration Agent Lou Ella Patterson and County Agent John Brazzil are directing the boys and girls in Randall County 4-H Club work.

One of the girls' leaders, Mrs. Douglas Marshall, was present at the meeting Friday. The 4-H Club girls attending were: Mary Gladys Marshall, Doris Bourn, Mona Beth Gillham and Nan Earyle Shipman.

The 4-H Club boys attending were: Doyle Bourn, Jack Metcalf, Jerry Shipman, Art Miller, Johnny Miller, Edel Money, Edward Hinders, Tom Marshall, Gene Shipman, Arvie Marshall and the Tucek boys, Norman, Weldon, Glen and Melvin.

Two Canyon Girls Are Baylor Grads

Two Canyon students will be among the 326 graduating from Baylor University at Waco during the summer commencement exercises this week. These students are: Frances Louise Standley Wegrich, candidate for the degree of Bachelor of Arts and Mary Beth Kimbrough, candidate for the degree of Master of Arts.

Baylor president W. R. White announced that the Rev. Carl Bates, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Amarillo, will make the commencement address. The exercises will be held in Baylor Stadium.

One hundred and forty-two students will receive master's degrees, the largest number ever awarded at a single commencement by the Baylor Graduate School. The other 184 graduates will receive bachelor's degrees. These together with the 852 degrees awarded during the "regular" school session raise to 1,178 the total number of graduates for 1951-52, Dr. White said.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Berry, Dorothy and Bruce spent the week-end in Shamrock with Mrs. C. A. Davis and her father in McLean, Mr. J. M. Sublett and her brother, Buster Sublett of McLean.

Randall County To Be Well Represented At Tri-State Fair

County Home Demonstration Agent, Miss Lou Ella Patterson and county agent John Brazzil are hoping for a bigger and better Randall County representation at the Tri-State Fair in Amarillo this year.

Plans are already underway for the 4-H club girls to enter a Randall County exhibition. No doubt the 4-H club boys will have a representative exhibit and it is hoped that there will be a number of ladies to enter jams, jellies and needle work. There should also be a number of livestock and crop exhibits from Randall County.

Your best opportunity to show the rest of the plains what Randall County is doing is to be well represented at the Tri-State Fair.

H. M. Baggarly of Tulia Herald Was Visitor Friday

H. M. Baggarly, publisher of The Tulia Herald, paid a pleasant call at The News office Friday. He has recently taken over the full management of the newspaper, since his former partner, DeWitt Davis is out of the organization.

Baggarly has a tough job ahead in handling all of the business details of his newspaper, but he is doing a fine job.

Dr. and Mrs. J. L. Markham spent the week-end in Stratford with Mr. and Mrs. Gene Wilson.

Police Pick Up Stolen Cars in Very Short Time

The police department wishes to express sincere thanks for the co-operation of the Canyon Public. Only a few violations have occurred during the last two weeks. This is a record to be proud of and the credit for the achievement goes to the public.

There are a few minor offenses that may tempt the public and the police department issues a warning note about them. The boulevard stop signs that are strategically placed about town should be observed. It only requires a few seconds to stop at these intersections and look both ways in order to make sure it's safe to proceed. Your own safety was uppermost in the minds of the people who placed these signs in their various positions. Another thing to watch is double parking which chokes up traffic lanes and places you in a position to become dangerously sideswiped.

Another hazard that needs careful consideration is the small vehicle traffic after dark. All bicycles and motor scooters should have at least one headlight and a reflector or tail light. These things are important to the safety of the person operating that particular vehicle.

The efficiency of the Police Department is portrayed in two recent cases. Thursday, the 16th, a car was stolen in Wichita Falls and Friday, the 17th, it was recovered by the Canyon Police Department. Then on Wednesday, August 8th, a car was stolen in Lubbock and was picked up by the Canyon Police Sunday, August 12.

Building Low Crossing in Park

Work has been in progress in the Palo Duro Park on the crossings which are being rebuilt for the pleasure of the visitors.

Work was started on crossing No. 5 Monday. It will take practically all summer to complete rebuilding crossings 3, 4 and 5 following the flood which hit the Park a few weeks ago.

EDITORIAL COMMENTS

West Point Is an Educational Institution—Not Football Team

We intended forgetting about the West Point episode following last week's issue of the paper. However, since that time the boys who were found guilty of cheating have been leaving the Military Academy in large numbers; kicked out by the military with no interference from the President.

We suspect that everyone feels genuinely sorry for the fate of the boys who got the toe of the military boot. Various sentiments have been expressed, both pro and con regarding the situation. Few people agree as to what should be done.

Since these are not the first American students who have cheated in their class work; and since President Truman has become accustomed to such wholesale immorality in his official family, it is a wonder that the President did not take a hand in the affair.

We are still thinking of the vast majority of the cadets in West Point who are not members of the football squad, and who frown on the practices of extending special honors and treatment to this group of young men. These men have stated that they would not go to see a West Point team which had been caught in cheating. They uphold the honor system of the Academy. They take the position that no man who breaks this honor system is worthy of wearing the military uniform of the United States.

We shall leave the final outcome to those who have to suffer under the penalties which are imposed by the system. West Point is still a great educational institution, and not a football sanctuary.

Readers Are Again Urged Read The Constitutional Amendments

Again we wish to implore that readers of The Canyon News take the time to read the constitutional amendments which are published in this issue.

It is a rather sad tragedy when the law provides that ample publication be given on legal matters that so few people are willing to study these publications, but will skip through them lightly.

The constitutional amendment is the only time that the average citizen has the opportunity of passing upon the fundamental laws of the state. In other law, the legislature alone passed upon the merits or demerits of bills. Of course it takes a two-thirds vote of all members of both houses of the legislature to submit constitutional amendments to the vote of the people. Naturally members of either house who are convinced that such an amendment would be wrong in principle, or would create a hardship upon any part of the citizenship would hardly vote to support the submission of such an amendment.

Which leads us to say that in this issue of The Canyon News a large number of legal notices are published. The readers should take the time to read these legal notices and to heed their contents.

France Lags In Recovery as the Rich Grow Richer; Poor Poorer

The only nation among the major powers which is lagging in its recovery is said to be poor old France. This situation is largely due to the fact that the people of France do not believe in taxes, and refuse to pay taxes. They take the position that so long as Uncle Sam is pouring out billions of dollars to aid them, why should they pay taxes.

The big fellows of France are getting wealthier at the expense of the Marshall Plan dollars, while the loafers of France continue to loll on the streets and in the cafes, refusing to work. The rich bribe the tax collector in order to escape taxation; the poor having no taxes to pay.

We have never seen any person who wished to get along in the world go very far unless he was willing to work, and pay his own way.

British Say They Are Making the Atomic Bomb for Destruction

The British say that they are making the atomic bomb, but do not say just how many such bombs have been completed.

Not long ago the President announced that Russia was building such a bomb.

Work is progressing on experiments of various types of atomic bombs in this nation.

There is a definite race on between the powers to see which one will be able to produce the most deadly bomb.

Isn't it a shame that civilization has not progressed to a point beyond that of building more powerful machines for human destruction? How much better it would be if all of the nations were working to improve civilization rather than destroy it?

Runaway Prices May Be Seen as A Campaign Issue for 1952

Our guess is that you shall see runaway prices in America between now and November, 1952.

Why? The President is sore at Congress for forcing him to sign a watered down control bill. Truman has been playing politics for many years. He knows that an increased cost of living will displease the voters. He wants to get the people good and sore before the election of 1952, and a sure way to do so is to pretend to hold prices in line, but at the same time encouraging their rise.

This is the time of the year we do our gardening; we know nothing will be successful and so we save time and money by abandoning all plans until next year.

Some years ago there was speculation about winters getting warmer; what we would like to read about is a prediction that our summers will be cooler.

Bragging is not altogether a lost art in the United States if you have read the advertisements of business or the proclamations of politicians seeking votes.

We absolutely tremble when we see some of the recipes that the culinary experts suggest might make good eating.

The farmers will produce abundantly this year and, no doubt, wonder why they get less money for bigger yields.

Hearst Is an Example of Hard Work; Interest in His Living

Many times during the past years The News has referred to William Randolph Hearst and his newspapers. Hearst is dead, after 88 years of eventfully packed living. His life's work goes on.

Naturally Hearst had a distinct advantage over most citizens. He inherited an estimated fortune of twenty-five millions of dollars. Not many men are able to accumulate that much money in a lifetime.

However, there is a lesson in the life of Hearst. He did not accept the inherited fortune lightly, and decide to have a fine time during the balance of his life. He could have lived that way if he chose, but he went to work in the newspaper field, buying newspapers, and selling those which did not produce a revenue.

He hired the best talent to be procured. Arthur Brisbane was his top editorial writer during his lifetime. Brisbane was sold on the idea of air power and day after day urged America to build more planes. Had America been foresighted enough to follow his advanced thinking, the nation would have been saved many a headache.

In spite of all his wealth, Hearst was not satisfied. He branched out from the newspaper field to magazine publication, and the motion pictures. A few years ago he met with financial reverses which would have wrecked the fighting spirit of most folks—but not William Randolph Hearst. His final estate will total about 200 million dollars, so we are told. He left most of it to charitable institutions, designating that not one penny go to foreign countries. Hearst loved the nation which had been so kind to him during his long and eventful life.

Even in his final years, he dictated the policies of his publications from his wheel chair, never relinquishing his interest in life, as most men are willing to do when they reach the age of retirement.

While we never expect to have a fortune, we admire the spunk and the courage of the man who has such a fortune and is unwilling to sit down and waste it in riotous living.

Vote Saturday in the Transfer Of 30c Fund to Randall County

A majority of the tax payers of Randall county are pretty well convinced now just how they will vote in the special election to be held on Saturday of this week in Randall county.

The issue is whether or not the Commissioners' Court shall be empowered to levy an additional 30 cents tax for the support of the road and bridge fund.

Let it be remembered that this tax is NOT a new tax, but simply a transfer of state funds to Randall county.

The only opposition comes from two groups: Those who want no additional taxes; and those who believe that there is an unjust system of valuations placed on property as between country and city property.

The question of equalizing taxes is an old, old headache. There never has been a board of equalization which could do the job properly and equitably. There never will be such a board.

Perhaps we are living in a spoiled age when the people are expecting too much from the governing bodies, locally, state-wide and nationally. We want someone else to carry the load for us. It has been pretty clearly indicated that the state of Texas will get out of the building of farm-to-market roads as quickly as possible. The state highway department is broke and the primary highways are taking all of the money available. Therefore, if we wish any more farm-to-market roads in Randall county it will be up to the people to build them.

So far as the folks here at The News office is concerned, we intend to vote for this transfer of the tax levy. If there are inequalities in taxation in the future, let's get to the root of these inequalities and not hamper progress by voting negatively.

General Ike Is Free to Run For President in 1952

The President says that he will not handicap General Eisenhower from running for President in 1952, but doubts that he will run.

Furthermore, the President puts in a plug for Senator Taft for the Republican nomination. He is convinced that Taft would be a weak candidate, and therefore this encouragement.

It would be very dumb politics had the President told General Ike that he must stay with his job in Europe and not engage in American politics.

However, both Ike and Harry are still keeping council to themselves as to what they shall do in 1952.

Lyndon Johnson Sends Greetings To The News by a Warm Friend

Senator Lyndon Johnson sent his best wishes to The Canyon News by a special representative who had worked with the Junior Senator in years past. He had written a previous letter of thanks, but we got lazy and forgot to answer it.

At any rate, Senator Johnson is doing a swell job up in Washington, and we are quite certain that all Texans are proud of his accomplishments. We just hope that he will continue his present policy of hitting where there is need for hitting, and letting the chips fall where they will do the most good.

We hear that industry is reducing production, on account of big inventories on hand, and this about disposes of the theory that abundant production will cause prices to decline.

The trouble with most democratic governments is that almost nobody represents the people who have little political influence.

As long as American dollars hold out we will have a few friends among those nations that expect to get some of them.

So far, no historian has gone into the record to discover where the first bathing beauty contest was celebrated.

Could it be possible that the Communists, having been soundly whipped in Korea, want a way to quit?

Most reformers are satisfied with themselves.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Section 51a of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended, and the same is hereby amended so that the same shall hereafter read as follows:

"Section 51a. The Legislature shall have the power, by general laws to provide, subject to limitations and restrictions herein contained, and such other limitations, restrictions, and regulations as may by the Legislature be deemed expedient for assistance to, and for the payment of assistance to:

"(1) Needy aged persons who are over the age of sixty-five (65) years; provided that no such assistance shall be paid to any inmate of any State-supported institution, while such inmate; and provided that any resident of the State, if otherwise eligible, may not be excluded who has resided in the State for five (5) years during the nine (9) years immediately preceding the filing of the application for such assistance including the one (1) year continuously immediately preceding the filing of such application; provided that the maximum payment per month from State funds shall not be more than Thirty Dollars ($30) per month.

"Any applicant for or recipient of assistance, including the spouse in each instance, who shall dispose of any property after June 1, 1952, and any person who initially applies for assistance after June 1, 1957, who has disposed of any property within five (5) years prior to the date of application, shall be ineligible to receive assistance; provided, that if such property was disposed of by bona fide sale and conveyance, and for value commensurate with the actual market value thereof, such disposition shall not affect eligibility for assistance if it be shown that all proceeds from such sale have been used by such person and spouse for normal living expenses, or for the purchase of other real property of like value. If any recipient of assistance or spouse shall sell any real property, neither such recipient nor spouse shall thereafter receive assistance until all net proceeds of said sale have been expended for normal living expenses; and in case of disposition of such property by gifts or for an amount less than its actual market value, such person and spouse shall not thereafter receive assistance until the expiration of the period of time during which the net proceeds of said sale would have paid their normal living expenses had the actual market value been realized therefrom.

"(2) Needy blind persons who are over the age of sixteen (16) years; provided that no such assistance shall be paid to any inmate of any State-supported institution, while such inmate; and provided that any resident of the State, if otherwise eligible, may not be excluded who has resided in the State for five (5) years during the nine (9) years immediately preceding the filing of the application for such assistance including the one (1) year continuously immediately preceding the filing of such application.

"(3) Needy children who are under the age of sixteen (16) years; provided that any child, if otherwise eligible, may not be excluded who has resided in the State for one (1) year immediately preceding the filing of the application for such assistance, or, if said child is under the age of one (1) year, whose parent or other relative with whom the child is living has resided in the State for one (1) year immediately preceding the birth of such child.

"The Legislature shall have the authority to accept from the Federal Government of the United States such financial aid for the assistance of the needy aged, needy blind, and needy children as such Government may offer not inconsistent with restrictions herein set forth; provided, however, that the amount of such assistance out of State funds to each person assisted shall never exceed the amount so expended out of Federal funds; and provided further that the total amount of money to be expended out of State funds for such assistance to the needy aged, needy blind and needy children shall never exceed the sum of Forty-two Million Dollars ($42,000,000) per year.

"Should the Legislature enact enabling laws and provide an additional appropriation hereto in anticipation of the adoption of this Amendment, such Acts shall not be invalid by reason of their anticipatory character."

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION No. 2

PROPOSING AN AMENDMENT to Section 49-b, Article III, Constitution of Texas, so that the total amount of bonds or obligations that may be issued by the Veterans' Land Board is increased to One Hundred Million Dollars ($100,000,000); providing for the issuance of said bonds and certain conditions relating thereto and the use of the Veterans' Land Fund; providing for an election and the issuance of a proclamation therefor.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Section 49-b, Article III, Constitution of Texas, be amended so that the same will hereafter read as follows:

"Section 49-b. There is hereby created a Board to be known as the Veterans' Land Board, which shall be composed of the Governor, the Attorney General, and the Commissioner of the General Land Office. The Veterans' Land Board may issue not to exceed One Hundred Million Dollars ($100,000,000) in bonds or obligations of the State of Texas for the purpose of creating a fund to be known as the Veterans' Land Fund. Such bonds shall be executed by said Board as an obligation of the State of Texas, in such form, denominations, and upon the terms as are now prescribed by Senate Bill No. 29, Chapter 318 of the Acts of the Fifty-first Legislature (provided, that when the limitation of Twenty-five Million Dollars ($25,000,000) is used in said Senate Bill No. 29, the same shall hereafter be construed as One Hundred Million Dollars ($100,000,000), or as said Act may be hereafter amended, or by other laws that the Legislature may hereafter enact; provided, however, that said bonds shall bear a rate of interest not to exceed three per cent (3%) per annum, and that the same shall be sold for not less than par value and accrued interest.

"In the sale of such bonds, a preferential right of purchase shall be given to the administrators of the various teacher retirement funds, the Permanent University Funds, and the Permanent School Funds; such bonds to be issued as needed, in the opinion of the Veterans' Land Board.

"The Veterans' Land Fund shall be used by the Board for the sole purpose of purchasing lands suitable for the purpose hereinafter stated, situated in this State, (a) owned by the United States, or any governmental agency thereof; (b) owned by the Texas Prison System, or any other governmental agency of the State of Texas; or (c) owned by any person, firm, or corporation.

"All lands thus purchased shall be acquired at the lowest price obtainable, to be paid for in cash, and shall be a part of the Veterans' Land Fund.

"The lands of the Veterans' Land Fund shall be sold by the State of Texas Veterans of the present war or wars, commonly known as World War II, and to Texas Veterans of service in the armed forces of the United States of America subsequent to 1945, as may be included within this program by legislative act, in such quantities, and on such terms, and at such prices and rates of interest, and under such rules and regulations as are now provided by law, or as may hereafter be provided by law.

"All moneys received and which have been received and which have not been used for repurchase of land as provided herein by the Veterans' Land Board from the sale of lands and for interest on deferred payments, shall be credited to the Veterans' Land Fund for use in purchasing additional lands to be sold to Texas Veterans of World War II, and to Texas Veterans of service in the armed forces of the United States of America subsequent to 1945, as may be included within this program by legislative act, in like manner as provided for the sale of lands purchased with the proceeds from the sales of the bonds, provided for herein, for a period ending December 1, 1959; provided, however, that so much of such moneys as may be necessary during the period ending December 1, 1959, to pay principal of and interest on the bonds heretofore issued and on bonds hereafter issued by the Veterans' Land Board shall be set aside for that purpose. After December 1, 1959, all moneys received by the Veterans' Land Board from the sale of the lands and interest on deferred payments, or so much thereof as may be necessary, shall be set aside for the retirement of said bonds and to pay interest thereon, and any of such moneys not so needed shall not later than the maturity date of the last maturing bonds or bonds be deposited to the credit of the General Revenue Fund to be appropriated to such purposes as may be prescribed by law. All bonds issued hereunder shall, after approval by the Attorney General of Texas, registration by the Comptroller of the State of Texas, and delivery to the purchasers, be incontestable and shall constitute obligations of the State under the Constitution of Texas. Of the total One Hundred Million Dollars ($100,000,000) of bonds herein authorized, the sum of Twenty-five Million Dollars ($25,000,000) has heretofore been issued; said bonds are hereby in all respects validated and declared to be obligations of the State of Texas. This amendment shall become effective upon its adoption."

Sec. 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State at an election to be held throughout the State of Texas on the second Tuesday in November, 1951, at which election all voters favoring the proposed Amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots the following words:

"FOR the Amendment to Section 49-b, Constitution of Texas, for increasing Veterans' Land Fund for the purchase of lands in Texas to be sold to Texas Veterans of World War II, and to Texas Veterans of service in the armed forces of the United States of America subsequent to 1945."

Those opposing said proposed Amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots the following words:

"AGAINST the Amendment to Section 49-b, Constitution of Texas, for increasing Veterans' Land Fund for the purchase of lands in Texas to be sold to Texas Veterans of World War II, and to Texas Veterans of service in the armed forces of the United States of America subsequent to 1945."

If it appears from the returns of said election that a majority of the votes cast were in favor of said Amendment, the same shall become a part of the State Constitution and be effective from the date of the determination of such result and the Governor's proclamation thereof.

Sec. 3. The Governor of the State of Texas shall issue the necessary proclamation for said election, and shall have the same published as required by the Constitution and laws of this State.

Mocking Birds Nest On Grave of Singer

The late Leon Rusk has the type of company he appreciated.

Rusk, singer on station KAMQ, was killed in an automobile accident May 14, 1950, near Tulia, along with three other persons, including Wynona Parker, daughter of Mrs. Sophia Wardlow, 804 Jackson in Amarillo.

Recently Mrs. Wardlow and another daughter, Mrs. O. C. Riley of 3212 West Third, Amarillo, visited Rusk's grave at Dreamland Cemetery. They noticed a withered wreath which had been placed on the grave Memorial Day and were about to dispose of it.

Then they saw something which caused them to leave the wreath undisturbed. A mocking bird, the Lone Star State's official songster, had spurned nearby trees to build a nest in the wreath.

And the nest was filled with hungry young vocalists.

Park Attendance Continues to Grow Weekly

More than 20,000 persons attended Palo Duro Canyon State Park in July, 1951, with more than 1,100 cars being from out of state and foreign countries. Oklahoma led the list with 243 cars, New Mexico had 102 cars, Illinois 72 and these three leaders were followed by Kansas, Louisiana, California, Missouri, Ohio, Michigan, Mississippi and neighboring Colorado. More than 4,200 Texas cars entered the park.

Attendance since the start of the tourist season has been far ahead of a year ago. The week of July 4 saw more than 7,000 visitors at the park and the attendance in August is increasing to an average of more than 4,000 each week.

The park is the world's most colorful Canyon and offers a seven mile scenic drive through a virtually unexplored wonderland. Buffaloes, Longhorn steers, deer, a wild horse herd, Mexican, Indian and American cowboys, service buildings, corrals of the 1890 vintage add a real touch of the Old West.

The attendance last year was 110,000 and park officials believe it will go above 150,000 this year. All facilities at the Canyon are open the year round.

Mrs. Amelia Warren and daughter, Jo Beth spent the week-end with relatives in Friona.

Miss Salley Robinson of McGregory, Texas, is visiting her nephew, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Roberts.

Miss Opal Scruggs of Dallas is visiting in the parental W. T. Scruggs home.

Mrs. Lecy Franklin of Nacogdoches is visiting relatives here.

President Truman will do nothing to close the door to renomination for himself until he is sure who the Republican nominee is and until he is confident that he can name the sucessor he wants in his own party. The President is glad to have his name entered in presidential primaries. Mr. Truman will not even be displeased if the Convention gives him a nomination as a vote of confidence, which he then can refuse, naming a successor.

Higher Education Doesn't Help Gal's Matrimonial Chance

NEW YORK, N. Y.—Higher education seemingly hinders rather than helps the American girl's chances for romance that leads to matrimony.

Among women at ages 35 to 44 with less than seven years of schooling, almost 95 per cent have been married at one time or other, according to Metropolitan Life Insurance Company statisticians, whereas among those with more schooling the porportion married declines to 90 per cent for high school graduates, and to 83 per cent for those with at least one year of college.

Girls with higher education who do marry, the statisticians observe, acquire husbands with more schooling.

Encouraging to marriage-minded girls is the finding that prospects for an early marriage, traditionally excellent for the average American girl, have become even brighter in recent years. The total number of married women in the United States has increased by some 8,000,000 since 1940, now standing at about 38,000,000.

"The present total reflects the marriage boom of the war and immediate postwar years," the statisticians point out, "and is a record high, not only in absolute numbers but percentage-wise to the adult population as well."

The statisticians also show that: American wives are relatively young—two fifths under 35 years of age, and only one sixth over 55.

In three fourths of all families the wife is somewhat younger than her husband. In only one family in eight is she older than her spouse, and then generally by a small margin. In the remaining eighth of the families, husband and wife are the same age.

About two out of every three American women were employed at some time before they were married, and many continue to work after marriage until the first baby comes. Almost one half of all wives are employed through the first year of marriage, as against less than one in five at the time of the fifth wedding anniversary.

Currently, the odds are two to one that the wife will outlive her husband!

Russians Have Developed New Crossword Stickler

MOSCOW—Crossword puzzle fans have long been familiar with a three-letter word defined as a Central Asiatic animal—the Yak. Now the Soviet press has come up with a new puzzler.

A special dispatch from Ulan Ude, capital of the Buryat Mongolian Republic, says that a new, valuable type of agricultural animal has been produced by cross breeding the Tibetan yak and domesticated cattle. The new animal—crossword material, for sure— is called a hainyk, which roughly could be translated as "sturdy."

Ah, Texas, Even the Birds Are Better Than Average!

LOS ANGELES—Zoologists at the University of California at Los Angeles have disclosed that the Texas nighthawk has been fitted by nature with a built-in cooling system in its mouth. The inborn icebox allows the bird to sit on its nies in 110-degree temperatures, they say.

According to the scientists, the natural refrigerator works like this:

When temperatures rise, the bird opens its mouth; unique throat muscles fan air over large veins; moisture from oral surfaces is evaporated, cooling the hawk's blood supply.

Dr. Raymond B. Cowles said that nature apparently worked out this system. The night-flying bird, which has no sweat glands, must sit on eggs under a broiling sun. They cover their eggs during the day, he explained, not to keep them warm, but to keep them from being parboiled.

Even Animal Life Hard Hit By the Housing Shortage

CHICAGO — With the housing shortage, what more could one expect?

George E. Green built a two-flat bird house three years ago and put it up in a mulberry tree in his back yard.

He was not too surprised when a family of squirrels took up residence in the first-floor flat this year. After all, there is a shortage of hollow trees in the neighborhood.

He was startled, however, when two blackbirds inspected the second-floor flat, found it to their liking, and moved right in. So far, all is harmony.

Village of 40 Persons Likes Police Chief Very Much

MANTOLOKING, N.J.—This seashore resort village of 40 persons was apparently very grateful for Police Chief J. Harrison Herbert's long service record. They gave him a gift of $1,400 and 25 silver dollars when he celebrated his 25th police anniversary. His wife received a watch and an elaborate floral bouquet.

A lot of money for so few people to give? Sure, but it works this way. Mantoloking jumps to a summer population of 1,500 and the summer residents helped out, too.

West German shipyards are well on way to recovery.

Personal Debts in Record Rise; Double 1945 Figures

In the period since the end of World War II, the American people as a whole have gone into debt to buy homes and consumer's goods at a greater rate than ever before according to an analysis of figures compiled by Government and private sources.

As a matter of fact, the increase in personal debt in the aggregate in the five-year period ending last December was by itself substantially larger than the total of such debt outstanding both at the end of 1945, when the postwar rise began, or any previous year for which records are available. The total of individual debt in selected forms of personal borrowing added up to $79.5 billions at the end of 1950, a rise of $44.8 billions, or 129 per cent, from the $34.7 billions owed at the end of 1945. Practically a quarter of this record increase took place in the year 1950 alone.

Much of this over-all debt increase may have been the natural result of an interplay of factors such as the great advance in incomes in recent years, the markedly higher price level, and the inevitable desire of the people to splurge after the long period of austerity and self-denial during World War II. Nor, by past standards, is the current level of aggregate personal debt abnormally high in proportion to total personal disposable income.

Nonetheless, more individual saving and less spending are essential to help meet the demands of today's emergency. Thus the extent and rapidity of the rise in personal debt, with their impact on an already swollen spending stream, provide a background to the moves for tighter borrowing terms and for curbing credit expansion in general as a major weapon to combat the strong inflationary pressures released by the Korean war and the anticipated impact of the nation's rearmament effort.

Human Artifacts Constituted Of Nineteen Different Metals

Nineteen different metals were identified in studies on the composition of human hair, skin and nails, two University of Michigan researchers reported recently.

Minute quantities of heavy metals such as silver, lead, tin, zinc, iron, copper and aluminum were among those found as constituents of the human artifacts, the report indicated.

Other metals found were barium, boron, sodium, titanium, strontium, potassium, calcium, phosphorous, magnesium, manganese and silicon.

Results of a two-year study of the metallic content of hair, skin (and nails) were presented before a meeting of the Society for Investigative Dermatology by Dr. Raymond W. Goldblum of the University's Medical School Department of Dermatology.

Dr. Goldblum was assisted in the research by Stanley K. Derby, a graduate student in the U-M Department of Physics. Derby performed extensive spectrographic examinations to determine the kind and amount of metal present in the samples collected by Dr. Goldblum.

Dr. Goldblum pointed out that many of the heavy metals, such as zinc, iron, magnesium, copper and manganese are involved in the chemical processes that take place in the skin.

Coal Supply

According to a recent report, issued by the U. S. Geological Survey, somewhat over 24,000,000,000 tons of bituminous coal have already been produced in the United States, while of what remains more than 616,300,000,000 tons are still recoverable, assuming 50 per cent recovery of these reserves. With all kinds, that is, bituminous, subbituminous, lignite, anthracite and semi-anthracite, nearly 30,000,000,000 tons have been mined while over 1,200,000,000,000 tons are still capable of recovery. If our use of coal continued at the same average annual rate as between 1940 and 1950, this would last until the year 3563.

Sterling Alloy

"Sterling" is a silver alloy containing 4 to 6 per cent of copper. It is strong enough to be used in articles made of "solid silver." The pure metal is very soft, but does have better resistance to corrosion than sterling silver. To give strength and low cost pure silver is plated electrically on brass, pewter, etc. This makes a very thin coating, usually only two or three thousandths of an inch in thickness. Since the exposed coating, in such plated articles, is actually pure silver, it is less likely to tarnish than sterling.

Safety Value

Checks for more than $69,000 were given to welfare institutions and hospitals in more than 20 communities last year from savings realized through a reduction in accidents by a steel company. Officials of the company had previously announced a policy whereby savings in insurance and accident compensation payments on account of improved safety, as compared with the previous five-year period, would be used for the improvement of social agencies in communities where the company operates.

Negro Stirs Up Lot of Stink Over Actions

The puzzling path of a shock dazed negro started in Canyon and zig zagged its way across the Panhandle. The mysterious epoch began Saturday, August 4 in Canyon when M. E. Cantrell, Randall County Sheriff, received a call from Dr. Harry Brown. The call was to the effect that a white man was holding a bruised, battered and tattered negro at shot gun point on the Hereford highway northwest of town.

Upon arriving at the spot Sheriff Cantrell found no one at first but upon closer examination the negro was located near the stockyards. When the Sheriff called out the man attempted to flee. After firing a shot into the air, Sheriff Cantrell related that he returned to the highway and found the exhausted negro in a ditch. The face, hands, arms and legs of the negro had numerous cuts, bruises and lacerations and he was taken to Neblett Hospital for treatment.

Although in a dazed, shocked condition, the negro managed to give the sheriff accurate information. The negro's home is in Washington D. C. and he was on vacation with plans to visit California. He had been traveling on the train and while traveling had taken some drinks with a negro sailor. He either jumped or was pushed from the speeding train. The time of the crude departure has been fixed at about 3:45 p. m. Saturday, August 4. One of the mysteries in the case is how the man survived the fall from the train that was traveling about 60 miles per hour.

The Santa Fe officials cooperated with the law enforcement agency in trying to clear up part of the mystery. They checked on the negro's baggage and recovered two bags, a hat and a coat at Belen, New Mexico, and had them returned to Amarillo. Under the existing circumstances it wasn't hard to understand why the negro no longer desired to continue west. He stated that he wanted to return home to Washington.

At his request, the negro's bags were sent to his home in Washington. He also stated that he preferred to travel by bus and so a ticket to Chicago was purchased. Once more the dark cloud of mystery enters the scene. The officials don't know whether or not the man boarded the bus. He next showed up in a creek bed near Wellington where he was picked up by officials about 10:00 a. m. Tuesday morning, August 7. His clothing was gone and in its place the negro wore the salvaged remains of a cardboard box.

Friday the negro was still in jail in Wellington. Although Wellington officials were in Amarillo, an attendant stated that the negro was still in a shocked, dazed condition that appeared something of a stupor. He said the negro would relate something one way and then immediately tell the same story in a different light. In Wellington, as in Canyon, the negro has been given medical care. He is sleeping in the Wellington jail until money is received from his mother to return him to Washington.

According to Sheriff Cantrell the negro is apparently well educated, writes an excellent hand and prior to his journey west was employed in a government printing shop in Washington. The information about the job was verified by a telephone call to the negro's mother in Washington.

Before his rude departure from the train, it is believed that the negro had $50.00 or $60.00 in cash but none of it was on him when Sheriff Cantrell picked him up. In fact it was reported that the negro was so frightened when first picked up that he couldn't speak for several minutes. No one seemed to know whether the negro was frightened by the gunshot ordeal or the shot Sheriff Cantrell fired into the air. The man reported by Dr. Brown as holding the shotgun on the negro is another one of the mysterious angles of the case. The shotgun wielder has neither been found nor identified.

Museum Space Being Prepared

Work has begun on the second floor of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society Museum to provide additional display space. Leonard Britt, former director of maintenance is superintendent of construction.

The new space will be used for fine arts displays, including the famed Hamblin Art collection. The collection has been stored for some time in a room on the second floor because there was not suitable display space for it. With the completion of the second floor the necessary space will be available.

Britt's crew is at present hanging the suspended ceiling. The air conditioning ducts will be installed next week. Also included in the plans is a fire escape on the west side in compliance with state laws concerning public buildings.

Boone McClure, director of the museum, says that work will be completed and displays arranged within three to six months.

Painting Will Be Featured in Lodge at Park

Featured attraction for Palo Duro State Park effective with the opening of bus service from Amarillo and Canyon will be an exhibit of the paintings of the famous Vienna artist Louis R. Neugebauer. Mr. Neugebauer has spent several weeks painting the Canyon during which time he is credited with the discovery of a large cave in a remote section of the park.

Working with sketching pad and the little Leica Camera with which he caught the ruins of Vienna in World War II, Mr. Neugebauer became intimately acquainted with the moods and colors of the Canyon. He has painted those things which the average person likes to see and has given them true balance and a real meaning.

The artist will exhibit from 12 to 16 large oil paintings, part of them dealing with the flowering cactus, the flora and fauna of the Canyon. The remainder of his paintings will for the first time give those who love the Canyon an opportunity to see it interpreted by a great artist. As will be seen from the exhibit The Kneeling Camel, queer geological formation, appealed most to his imagination. He has featured it in his paintings.

The exhibit, a major one man show, will be hung in El Coronado Lodge Friday, August 24, and will remain in place for about a month. The public is invited to see the exhibit. Mr. Neugebauer is now living in Amarillo and has his Vienna Art Studio at 1501 Polk Street.

Lt. Colonel Will Speak at Rotary

Lt. Col. Russell W. Tarvin will speak next Tuesday at the Canyon Rotary luncheon. He will be in Amarillo for inspection one day and will be brought here by Capt. Porter Oakes, information officer.

Horn Collection Is Added Attraction In Palo Duro Park

John McCarty, concessionaire, has bought a collection of longhorn steer horns which has been placed in the lodge of the Palo Duro Park.

One of the pair of horns is said to be the largest and longest in existence. It measures 7 feet, 10 inches from tip to tip, and is unusually large at the base.

Two of the long horn steers roam the Park and are quite an attraction to the thousands of weekly visitors to this pleasure resort.

Newspapers Carry Features on the Palo Duro Park

The opening of bus service, a major art exhibit, the Sunset Concerts and the final days of the Third Annual Treasure Hunt will combine to make August the greatest month in attendance at Palo Duro State Park. Attendance for the first three weeks of the month was at better than 4,000 a week average. It is possible for it to average close to 5,000 per week for the month.

The July attendance was better than 20,000 persons with 1,100 out of state cars. Oklahoma leads the parade of states visitors with New Mexico second. Mid-western and southern states are high on the list in attendance at the park.

Work has been resumed on the construction of a concrete low water crossings on the Prairie Dog Town Fork of Red River, the stream which has created the scenic marvel.

A survey of the big city newspapers in Texas and over the nation reveals that stories and pictures of Palo Duro Canyon have appeared in newspapers and magazines with more than ten million circulation in the last six weeks. This is having a decided upward effect on park attendance.

Children's Theatre Presented Play For Benefit of Public

Heart tugging melodrama efficiently protrayed by youngsters ended the Canyon Summer Children's Theater program Thursday night, August 16. The three act production was called, "The White Canoe," an Indian story of a brave chief and his beautiful young daughter.

All costumes and scenery were made by the children themselves. Jo Dell Johnston and Jim Thomas directed "The White Canoe." The cast of this play was: Rose Smith, Jim Thomas, Allen Hanks, Jimmie Boyd, Linda Burgess, Mary Lynn Hurst, Margaret Lee Johnson, Linda Phillips and Carolyn Sutton.

Also included in the cast were: Leota Duffey, Susie Kieselbach, Janet Reed and Linda Burgess. The Indian braves, making up the final portion of the cast, consisted of: Eugene Abbott, James Boyd, Bobby Haggard, Glen Reed, Connie Wilkenson and Nedra Fanning.

Following the dramatic three act play was a rib-tickling puppet show featuring Professor Trrreble Clefski at his piano.

The final bit of entertainment was called, "Once in a Hundred Years." This skit, directed by Mrs. W. B. Weatherred and Mrs. Leslie Curb, was handled by Norma Harvey, Kay Humphrey, Marilyn Cupp, Pat Humphrey, Frances Boyd, Jannice Marks and Peggy Humphrey.

The special costumes and sets of the program were supervised by Reba Wilson, Wanda Hurst and Francis Matlock. The Canyon Summer Children's Theater was under the direction of Mrs. Cecil Massey. Mrs. Massey hasn't been feeling chipper the last few weeks so Cecil pitched in and helped out during the last few days of the season.

Saturday's Crowd Presented Typical View to Visitor

An August Saturday in Canyon presents many interesting incidents for any person curious enough to observe things. New cars glitter in the sunlight as they set parked about the square. The older cars sit in a tired atmosphere as though they dread the appearance of the owner.

Here and there a huge truck with a semi-trailer load of hay sits parked while the owner scouts the town seeking anyone interested in buying the hay. New cars move gracefully around the square while the older, battered ones make the round in creaks and clanks of complaints.

People also present an interesting spectacle. A boy of about 15 comes out of a drug store, looks around at the two who are lagging behind and says in a loud voice, "wish there was something to do in this town." Around on the other side of the square a small group of old men gather in the shade of a tree for a friendly chat.

Store windows display their "back to school day" signs and anxious mothers go from store to store while doing the family shopping. Cool air makes the atmosphere in front of the theater a little more pleasant. The delightful smell of buttered popcorn drifts out to cause a rather vacant feeling in the pit of the stomach.

Business people greet each other with smiling affection while they prepare to close shop and spend Sunday away from the rigors of business. Farmers buy up their weekly needs and prepare to return to the farm in time for doing all the chores. The observer notes the varied interests and realizes that he is in the focal point of a metropolis of the plains.

Telephone Man Is Killed in Car Wreck Sunday Morning

The body was shipped by Griggs-Warren Funeral Home to Del Rio where he is reported to have several brothers and sisters living.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Conner and sons, Mrs. Herman Poarsh and son, Jerry, and their mother; Mrs. Margaret Conner of Kingsley, Iowa, visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Tucek and Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Leseberg last week. Mrs. Margaret Conner is an aunt of Mrs. Leseberg and Lewis Tucek.

Mr. and Mrs. Loys Knox, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Leseberg and Gladys returned last week from a vacation to Nebraska, Iowa and Indiana. They visited Mrs. Henry Reinehe and family of Ida Grove, Iowa, a sister of Mrs. Knox and Mrs. Leseberg and a brother, Joe Tucek of Indianapolis, Indiana.

Statehouse

by HUGH WILLIAMSON

Appointment of people for places on state boards, bureaus, commissions, and agencies, takes a good deal of Governor Allan Shivers' time and thought.

Filling these jobs with capable persons is not as easy as it looks.

There are 85 state boards and bureaus, plus a number of individual appointments. The boards have from three to 27 members. All kinds of classifications are included, from (alphabetically) Accountancy to Youth Development.

Most board members are appointed for six years, with some of the members' terms expiring every two years.

The idea is that there will always be some experienced persons and some newcomers to each board. There are some board members from Governor Beauford Jester's first term who are still serving.

In addition to the normally-occuring vacancies to be filled, there are many others caused by resignations and deaths.

Let's take one board as an example, and see what the governor has to think about when making appointments. The Game and Fish Commission is a good one to think about. Its membership was increased by the last Legislature from six to nine.

There are many groups who want representation on the Game and Fish Commission. These include commercial fishermen, outdoors sportsmen of all descriptions, conservationists, and sand and gravel people. The Game and Fish Commission regulates the taking of sand and gravel from public waters.

There are geographical considerations to be made. Game and fish problems of the Panhandle, for example, are obviously different from those of the Gulf Coast.

Personalities must be thought about: if two bitter enemies should be appointed to the same board, then there would likely be little accomplished at board meetings except argument.

Those appointed must be persons who can spare the time to attend board meetings.

At times, Governor Shivers — and other governors before him — have been criticized for appointing mostly well-to-do persons on state boards.

Governor Shivers has tried appointing persons of average means. His experience has been, generally, that these persons cannot afford to take time off to attend meetings. They are too busy with their jobs or their own private businesses.

One more factor enters into the appointment of board members, and that is practical politics.

The principle is that little would be accomplished by appointing a person who is bitterly opposed to the administration. Appointments, by the way, must be approved by the Senate.

So it is, then, that for every appointment to be made — and they run into the hundreds every year — the governor must consider knowledge of the job at hand, personalities, geography, whether the candidate can spare the time to serve, and politics.

It takes the full time of one person on the governor's staff — and sometimes that person needs help — to keep up with appointments and with correspondence dealing with appointments.

Every time there is a vacancy, dozens of letters come in suggesting prospective appointees. All these letters have to be answered. Not all of the candidates can be appointed, and sometimes tempers flare when a local favorite is rejected.

Making appointments is a ticklish task — one of many that keep the governor from sitting around twiddling his thumbs and wishing he had something to do.

Mrs. Ed Bailey and Joe, Mrs. B. C. Taylor, Sr., and Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Furlow vacationed over the week-end in Santa Fe and Eagle Nest.

Gordon Dean, head of Atomic Energy Commission, asked to tell of progress on hydrogen bomb: "Not today!"

Boyce House "Gives You Texas"

In pioneer days, in what is now Bastrop County, Indians attacked a farmhouse, killed six persons and carried Mrs. Crawford and her two children into captivity.

The woman whose husband was among those killed in the attack was heaped with insults and indignities. The savages grew tired of hearing one of the children cry—it was an infant, only two months old and so, as the famished baby was crying for something to eat, they decided to kill it. One of the Indians seized the babe from the mother's arms and tossed it into a deep pool.

Mrs. Crawford sprang in and saved it from drowning. The savages laughed at her frantic efforts and she had no sooner climbed back on the bank than they threw the baby into the pool again. As fast as she would save it, they would throw the infant back until the woman was almost exhausted. At last, tiring of this sport, one of the Indians seized the baby, held its head back and told another to cut its throat. The other drew his knife and, at this, Mrs. Crawford, forgetting all danger to herself, caught up a heavy piece of wood and, with a strength born of desperation, knocked the Indian down.

Then she waited for death to strike her. Instead, the Indians laughed at the warrior on the ground and one of them handed her the child and said, "Squaw too much brave." They never attempted to harm the baby after that.

The mother and the children were held captive for two years. When the Indians took them to Coffee's trading house on Red River, Coffee ransomed them by paying 400 yards of calico, a large number of blankets and other articles. He then furnished an escort, commanded by a Mr. Spaulding, who conducted them safely back to friends.

Spaulding fell in love with the brave widow and they were married. And so ends what is truly a heart-throb of Texas.

An act that we think nothing of at the time and forget immediately afterward may be important to someone else. And it may therefore prove to be important for us, too.

In the Spring of 1924, I was editor of a newspaper which was bought by a political group with which I disagreed, so I resigned. Jobless, with little money and nothing in sight is not an enviable situation in which to find oneself. Hearing of a vacancy in a nearby town, I phoned the newly-appointed manager and he invited me to come over.

When I started to introduce myself, he said, "I know you. I was a printer out of work and my wife and I came through your town a while back in an old car with furniture piled on top. You had a spare room over the newspaper office and invited us to spend the night there, and you sat around that evening and talked in such a friendly way that it bucked me up.

"Well, the job is yours."

Lions Club Had Musical Program At Wednesday Meet

The Canyon Lions Club enjoyed a musical program following the luncheon Wednesday, August 15. Tenor Joe Coleman, accompanied by pianist Hurschelene Journey McCarty, sang "September Song," the current popular "Too Young" and "I'll See You in My Dreams." Members were reminded of the invitation to visit the Tulia Lions Thursday night. Following this reminder, a committee on noise and confusion was appointed. The committee selected was made up of Pee Wee Gough, Clark Jarnagin and Lindsey Taylor.

Panhandle Roofing Company Praised By Customers

Reliable work at reasonable prices has gained for Panhandle Roofing Co. a reputation that has brought an ever increasing patronage to their office at 2323 E. 3rd in Amarillo and which has resulted in the satisfactory service to home owners and business and industrial buildings alike in the line of complete roofing and water proofing service—they feature the outstanding nationally advertised OLD AMERICAN approved roofs and water proofing.

We have all heard the story of the man who would not fix his roof when it rained because it was too wet and who did not consider it necessary when it wasn't raining. Many of us laugh at that joke and yet continue to follow the same ridiculous line of philosophy. Regardless of the particular kind of roof that is most desirable for your residence or other structure, Panhandle Roofing Co. will tell you which is best. Moreover, W. L. Harvey of this popular concern will see to it that only the best of material will be used on the job and he will see to it that you get honest and skilled workmanship.

To have gained the implicit confidence of the entire Panhandle as has Mr. Harvey and his company, is indeed commendable. It is small wonder that his organization has been forced to work at top speed to keep up with their customers' demands.

Look, Mom, It's REALLY Insulated!

Yes, mom, you've no fear that your children will be burned when they acidentally touch the outside of an electric water heater . . . it's FULLY insulated, top, sides and bottom. You see, an electric water heater needs no air to heat the water 'cause there's no combustion in the heating element. Thus the electric heating elements are completely contained WITHIN the tank. You get your money's worth with an electric water heater fully insulated for safety and economy.

Reddy Kilowatt's special water heating rate makes electric water heating economical, too. For plenty of hot water always, safely, economically, see your electric appliance dealer now.

STATEMENT OF FACTS AND INFORMATION!

To the Qualified Electors
Of Randall County, Texas:

In 1948 the qualified electors of the State of Texas voted for a Constitutional Amendment removing the 30c State Ad Valorem tax for State Purposes and permitting Counties to vote this 30c ad valorem tax for County purposes instead.

ARTICLE: 7048a Sec. 3, reads in part as follows:

Taxes levied and collected under the provisions of this Act shall be credited by the Commissioners' Court to separate funds known as the Farm-to-Market and Lateral Roads within such County.

Through all these years the State has been assessing and collecting this tax for the State General Fund; but this Amendment makes it possible for the several counties to vote this 30c tax and keep it in the County.

The Commissioners' Court of Randall County has called a special election for Saturday, August 25, 1951, for the purpose of approving or disapproving said tax as the voters see fit.

If approved by the voters, the tax will provide a 30c levy on each $100.00 valuation except for the regular $3,000.00 Homestead exemption provided for in the Constitution and State Statute.

This WILL NOT increase your taxes over what they were last year. If voted it will simply mean you will pay the tax to Randall County instead of the State.

All money received from this tax will go to building up Randall County.

If voted, it will be of great help to your Commissioner in making better roads for you, the school buses, mail routes and everyone in the County.

Following are a few questions that will be most often asked concerning this election:

Q. Will my present taxes be increased?
A. No. The tax will be paid to Randall County instead of State.

Q. Will my Homestead be exempt?
A. Yes, up to a value of $3,000.00.

Q. What is the money to be used for?
A. To construct and maintain Lateral Farm Roads.

Q. Will the value of my property be raised
A. No, this election will not change the values.

Q. Who can vote in this election?
A. Any qualified voter who renders property for taxes.

Q. What is a qualified voter?
A. A person who paid his or her poll tax in January 1951 or is exempt from payment.

To vote in this election, the person must have rendered either personal or real property or both for valuation in 1950-51.

Respectively Submitted,

Cpl. Alf. Hamblen Receives Burns at Camp in Japan

U. S. 45th Inf. Div., Hokkaido, Japan: Cpl. Alfred Hamblen, a 45th Infantry division medic of Canyon, received third degree burns the other day when he forgot the basic principle for putting out clothing on fire.

Hamblen's clothing caught fire as he was refilling a gasoline lantern while his unit, the 279th Infantry Med. Co., was on a field exercise. Forgetting the medics' advice of keeping calm and smothering the blaze, he jumped up and began to run about and beat the flame.

Only when 1st Sgt. C. H. Underwood of Odessa threw Hamblen to the ground and pinned him with his knee while buddies flailed him with bedding and blankets was the blaze extinguished.

Hamblen's mid-section, where the blaze had started, only had first degree burns but his hands had third degree burns as he tried to beat it out.

FOREIGN AID: The House is now considering the Mutual Security Act of 1951, or better named, the Foreign Aid Bill. The proposed program involves appropriation and expenditure of $7,848,750,000. The original request from the Executive branch of the Government was $8,500,000,000. This includes military assistance and economic assistance. You no doubt wonder how much each of us as an individual has been called upon to pay for foreign aid. From July 1, 1940, through June 30, 1952, the amount is $688.42 per person. This means that each person in the United States, or someone on their behalf, has paid $57.36 per year since 1940. Breaking this down on a monthly basis, the cost has been approximately $4.78 per month per person, or approximately 18¾ cents per day per person. Since there are eight in my family, our cost has been approximately $1.20 per day, or $36.00 per month, or $432.00 per year. By the same mathematical process you can determine the approximate cost to your family, your city, your county, or your state. For example, the total foreign aid paid and to be paid by Amarillo, Texas, is $50,762,025.54 for the period from July 1, 1940, through June 30, 1952.

The tremendous impact of this kind of program on the American, as well as the World, economy front caused the Committee on Foreign Affairs of the House of Representatives to make an exhaustive search and investigation before reporting the bill to the House. Included in this investigation and search was an on-the-ground investigation made by some of the members of the Committee on Foreign Affairs. That is, they went to Europe and visited several of the countries that are participating in the aid program. The report of the committee on its hearings consumed approximately 1600 pages of typewritten matter. Much information is packed in this report concerning the peoples of those countries and their history and beliefs. I will choose one of those to give you an idea of the depth to which the committee went. We will take India because it was not so long ago that India hit the headlines in connection with the 190 million dollar food grain bill that was before the Congress. The testimony showed that the cows, which are considered sacred in India, do not consume much grain, simply because they do not get it. However, there is a monkey problem that is very serious. The monkeys, according to best estimates, consume a great deal of grain and destroy more than they eat — about ten cents per day per monkey. The monkey population has never been determined but in many localities it is equal to the human population, and they multiply fast. In an effort to combat this problem in one state in India the state refused to issue or renew a gun license until the holder of the license brought in five monkey tails. The license seekers would go out and catch the monkeys and then turn them loose again. So the problem was not helped a great deal. It was suggested that they could have cut off the monkeys' tails and let them go. This of course would not have helped the problem any more than letting the monkey keep his tail. The respect of the Indian for the monkey is very deep and goes back far into the culture and history of India. The story is that a great leader, Rama, had a very beautiful wife by the name of Sita who was captured and taken to the island of Ceylon. Rama went to the forest and meditated and while there was approached by the king of the monkey tribe, who offered help. The monkeys came from all across India, from the far northern reaches, down to the Palk strait, the little strip of water separating Ceylon from the mainland. Rama could not get across, so the monkeys formed a bridge across the strait over which he rode his horse, and with the help of the monkeys he was able to recapture his bride. For that service the Indians have always had a deep reverence for the monkeys.

The cow situation is similar in some respects. The story is that in the early history the people were a nomadic and pastoral group and were eating up all of the animals with no thought as to the food supply. They had no civil law, so they solved the problem by putting it into their religion. They said, "Why do you eat the meat of man that furnishes milk and is a beast of burden?" — referring to the cow. So it was said, "You must not eat the cow." Putting it into their religion was a measure of economics because they had no other way to enforce it. The thought occurred to me that if they consider their cows sacred and refuse to eat them, we could perhaps trade them canner cows from this country, which they would perhaps not consider sacred, for their so-called sacred cows, and thereby solve the food problem. The hitch is that a great number of their cattle have the hoof and mouth disease and we couldn't bring them into this country. The great seriousness of the food problem in India for the future is reflected by the estimate in the Colombo Report that India is going to have 720 million people in twenty years, approximately five times the present population of the United States. Their antiquated methods in agriculture are of course a great drawback in India's meeting its own food problems. Some seventy per cent of the people of India are farmers. Their productivity is only one-half of ours. I wish I could give you more on this, but space will not permit.

DIPLOMAT

Disraeli used to tell on himself the story of a visit he made to Bismarck. He had frequently envied the Iron Chancellor's ability to quickly terminate annoying interviews without giving offense, and asked him how he managed it.

"That is easy!!!" answered Bismarck. "It is my wife. If she thinks someone is wasting too much of my time she sends to me our butler. He tells me that the Emperor wishes my immediate presence. Always, the strategy works!!"

Before England's statesman could reply, the butler tapped on the door and entered to announce: "Pardon me, sir, but His Majesty wishes to speak to you at once."

The Randall County Mobilization Committee, composed of representatives of the agricultural agencies working in this county, has called an open meeting at the Courthouse in Canyon on Thursday, August 23, at 2 p. m. This meeting is being held at the request of the Secretary of Agriculture who has asked that all agencies of the Department make a joint report on the present agricultural programs in each county.

Truitt Buick Co. Rates High

Just as General Motors revolutionized the automobile business with the new 1951 BUICK, which is the Nation's leader in its price field, so has Truitt Buick Co., located at 1100 Polk Street in Amarillo, been instrumental in becoming leaders as a new car agency, used car dealers and automotive repair establishment. This model concern is the center of activity, because motorists have recognized Truitt Buick as much more than a new car dealer.

Since opening their doors, they have always endeavored to offer the very best of automotive repair service on all makes of cars and trucks. Complete rebuilding of motors, body work, paint shop as well as repairs by factory trained mechanics are effected in the shortest possible time and are completely guaranteed. Although the firm has never stressed price as a means of getting work, it has been noted that work performed in their modernly equipped shops is so done at a competitive price.

The honest values and business methods of Truitt Buick Co. have always been of the very highest calibre whether the dealings were for a low mileage late model used car, repairs in their service department or for a new BUICK. A high criterion was set when the Truitt Buick Co. was established and in the business operation since, there has been no deviation from that standard, thus making this outstanding firm worthy of the patronage and praise of our many readers.

OVERSEAS FORCES

Appearing before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee to support the Administration's request for $6,300,000,000 for overseas military assistance, Defense Secretary George C. Marshall disclosed that this country plans to have 410,000 men in uniform in Europe by the end of next year. Our European allies will have 2,500,000 in active service by that time, he predicted.

UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE

The unemployment insurance trust fund increased by $641,000,000 in the fiscal year ending June 30th, reflecting a sharp increase in employment due to the defense program, according to the Bureau of Employment Security of the Labor Department. The increase brought the fund's total to $7,329,000,000 as of June 30.

WAR METAL

The Navy is considering the salvage of about 40,000 tons of World War II iron and steel scrap abandoned by American and Japanese forces in Alaska and the Aleutian Islands. Bids have been asked of commercial firms for the salvage job.

NOT THAT!

Joe and Jim were in a speedboat racing across the bay at top speed, narrowly missing other boats in their path.

Finally, Jim confessed to Joe, who was at the wheel, that he got frightened every time they had one of their near-hits.

"Why don't you do what I do then, and you won't get frightened," answered Joe, "Just close your eyes."

NEW BOND DRIVE

The Treasury has announced that it will launch its new Defense Bond Drive on Labor Day, September 3rd, at Grand Rapids, Mich. President Truman plans to participate in a radio and television broadcast, although it is not certain at this time whether the President will go to Grand Rapids or talk from Washington.

MATTER OF CHOICE

"Yes," the man replied.

"Well," she asked, "can I put it on myself?"

"Yes," the storekeeper said, "but it would look better on the wall."

Just Between You, Me, and The Gatepost

The coming generation in the vicinity of Canyon should be an educated group if the book buying trend means anything. According to a report from the front of the store, more childrens' books are sold than books for adults. This may not mean a thing and then again it may mean that there's a smart crop of youngsters coming on. We need them.

The back shop isn't going to be the same after good-natured LeRoy Dickerson leaves for school. The grind of the presses and the clatter of the linotype machines will still be here but what we're all going to miss is the voice of Jack Haley, imitating the Great Gildersleeve, saying Lee-e-e Ro-oy. In fact Jack has been getting so good at it that he could probably do a summer fill-in program for the Great Gildersleeve right now.

Speaking of summer fill-ins brings to mind vacations and going back to some place where you haven't been for a number of years. You meet a fellow whose face is familiar but you can't remember his name. You do remember that he had a couple of children growing up and there's a lovely young lady clinging to his arm now, so you risk a shot in the dark and say, "I see your daughter has grown up since I was here last." The faces opposite you cloud up like April skies and too late, you realize that the young lady is the man's second wife. Only a moment ago you hadn't even thought about jumping down a manhole.

That's the kind of a secret that a person is apt to keep. But as a general rule, secrets are those things which you tell only to your best friend. When you tell the secret you always add, "now don't you tell anyone." Perhaps you should add a few more words and say, "and if you do tell anyone, be sure to tell him or her, not to tell." This system might not work but scarecrows don't either and yet farmers manage to grow crops and gardens.

When you follow the path of a secret you finally reach the rumor. The rumor could probably be classified as the second cousin, perhaps once or twice removed, of the secret. This brings to front and center a rumor that made the rounds during World War Two. The rumor goes something like this, an airplane manufacturer designed a plane. Army engineers claimed the plane wouldn't fly because it didn't have enough airfoil. The manufacturer argued back that the airplane knew nothing about aerodynamics and would fly anyhow. He brought up the point that scientists claimed bumble bees' wings were too weak and small to enable the bumble bee to fly. The bumble bee knows nothing of science and goes right on flying. If a bumble bee can do it, so can an airplane.

Getting back nearer home, it seems that Dollar Day discussions are bogging down because of differing opinions about various technicalities. One of the spears that is holding progress back is a fear of the proximity and larger potentiality of the Dollar Day in another town. Perhaps too much importance is being placed in numbers where Dollar Day is concerned. Recognizing a superior force is important, but so are some other factors. Perhaps too many people have forgotten what David did to Goliath with a little hunk of rock and a large chunk of courage, confidence and faith.

Don't fail to go to the polls and vote August 25. The question is: Shall the county levy a 30 cents tax for road and bridge purposes. This 30 cent tax is abolished from the state rate, therefore you will be paying no more taxes than in the past. Go to the polls to express your sentiment.

The commies are still as big liars as ever, but they are fooling no one—not even themselves. While the Chinese Reds are "volunteers," they continue taking orders from Moscow. Wonderful system, so long as it works.

The Canyon News staff and their families enjoyed a delicious dinner of ham, potato salad and all the trimmings at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Warwick Friday evening. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Hillier, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Hunnicutt, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Haley and children, Patricia, Arthur and Denny. Mrs. Gladdis Samples, Mrs. Jerry Woods and LeRoy Dickerson.

The mayor, proud of having been awarded an honorary degree by his former college, was addressing a class in one of the city's grammar schools. He asked them whether anyone knew the meaning of M. D., D. D., and L. L. D.

There was a dead silence until a little girl excitedly shrilled: "I know, mister. Mairsy Doats, Dosey Doats, and Little Lambsy Divey!"

Flying over the Rocky Mountains, an airline hostess passed out chewing gum to the passengers.

They want everything they see, except soap. My ma is a woman and my pa is a man. A woman is a grown up girl with children. My pa is such a nice man that I think he must have been a girl when he was a boy."

The Army plans to "squeeze" two or three new combat divisions out of its present manpower by next June, "through improved utilization" of manpower—less overhead and more fighting men. New and Used Cars At Si Hess' Car Lot

There is no gamble in buying a used car or truck if careful consideration is given to the reputation of the company from which the purchase is to be made. The prospective purchaser should take every precaution to assure himself that the firm he is dealing with has a background of experience and a record for fair and honest business transactions. In this respect we are able, without hesitation, to recommend Si Hess' Car Lot, 700-02 Fillmore in Amarillo, who always has a wide selection of both new and used cars and trucks and who will finance any deals made with them on the spot.

This prominent Amarillo car dealer has directed every effort towards satisfying the many customers and friends who have elected to make their trades and purchases from them, with the result that complete satisfaction has followed.

A reputation for absolute dependability has been the goal towards which Si Hess has strived since they started in the new and used car business. That they have been eminently successful in their chosen field is evidenced by the fact that they have become "New and Used Car-Truck Headquarters" throughout this trade area and it is appropriate therefore that we pay tribute in the columns of our paper to them for the conduct of their business and to wish for them continued success in the years ahead.

Polio Bad in Texas: Not So Bad as Last Year

The state last week logged its highest polio incidence of the season, but it was still far short of the record set last year.

Ninety-seven cases of the virulent disease were reported by the State Department of Health for the week ending August 11, bringing the year's total to 874. Last week's report bested the previous week's incidence of 92 cases by five.

"Even one case of polio is too much," State Health Officer George W. Cox said, "but I'm mighty glad we don't have polio in wholesale lots like we did last year and the year before."

"Of course we still have to get through September and October—they can be mean for polio too," he cautioned.

Last year Texas suffered 2355 cases for the entire season. There were 210 deaths for the entire year, State Health Department statistics show, 88 of them occurring during the first 6 months. Through June of this year 29 polio deaths have been recorded.

Counties heaviest hit last week were Dallas, 17 cases; Tarrant, 10 cases; Bexar, 10 cases; and Harris, 7 cases.

Meanwhile, dysentery, always a leader among communicable diseases, continued its hot weather rampage. Morbidity statistics show 16,775 cases to date. Border counties—principally Cameron, Hidalgo, and Webb—reported the highest number of weekly cases.

"A return to fundamental personal, household, and community sanitation will do more to cut both polio and dysentery rates than anything else," Dr. Cox asserted. He appealed to parents to take the lead by keeping their own houses free of flies, and by demanding that their city officials take steps to "permanently eliminate breeding places."

The spirit voice replied: "I'd better tell you straight — I'm not in Heaven."

Doll House Is Filled With a Varied Interest

Because of a sentiment that could not stand seeing a broken doll lying around, Mrs. Carl W. Smith is in a unique and flourishing business. Her doll hospital on 8th Avenue receives business from all over Texas. At present she's expecting a doll from Houston and has repaired one doll from California. Probably no other toy has such a sentimental attachment as a doll. It is not uncommon for Mrs. Smith to work on dolls that are 40 or 50 years old. The oldest one to her knowledge to come into the hospital was 65 years old and had a metal head.

To prove that dolls hold a charm-like sentiment, Mrs. Smith relates that many oldsters bring in dolls to be repaired. Over the period of years paint cracks and dolls begin to look broken and sickly. Because of the sentimental value, owners dislike tossing dolls in the ash can. One individual brought nine dolls to the hospital.

The greatest and happiest customers of Mrs. Smith are the youngsters who bring dolls in for various ailments. Both glass and metal eyes are stocked at the hospital. Hair in the newest and latest designs is available. Even the ears of the dolls can be replaced at the doll hospital. Other accessories include: tiny purses, hats, shoes, ice skates, roller skates, ballerina shoes, majorette boots, batons and cowboy boots with spurs. What the children seem to enjoy most is the small package of candy pills that Mrs. Smith sends home with each doll.

Her tools are extremely simple, Mrs. Smith relates. They consist of wire hooks, pliers and loads of patience. Even with a great deal of patience, all demands cannot be accomplished. For instance, one little girl desired that her doll from the hospital with a baby doll. Upon another occasion some little boys wanted to know whether or not Mrs. Smith would keep their mice for them.

More than one hundred dolls have been repaired since the first of the year. When this work slows down so that she isn't kept busy, Mrs. Smith creates dolls of artistic designs. Scenery nooks depicting Arizona, Alaska, Italy and Texas have been arranged to create a realistic atmosphere. All sizes of doll heads, arms, and legs are available through the doll hospital. Even the tiny part that makes the doll cry and call mama, the doll's voice, is replaced by Mrs. Smith.

The business has been in existence about 2½ years and is growing larger as it gets older. Some of the business is done by receiving the dolls through the mail and they're mailed out again when the work is done. This is not carried on to a great extent because of the danger of a doll becoming damaged during packaging and handling.

The doll hospital is more than a business. It's a love for making artistic repairs and artistic creations. Although it requires infinite patience, Mrs. Smith carries it to complete fulfillment to the heartfelt delight of oldsters as well as youngsters.

Work Started New Elevator

The new $80,000 elevator now under construction by the Taylor-Evans Farm Store is expected to be complete in time for the maize harvest this fall. The Vega contractor, L. C. Durham, plans to complete the structure within 65 days. This leaves about 55 days before completion.

Excavation for storage bins and other equipment requires a depth of 26 feet. The entire excavation will be done with machinery except some minor trim work which will require hand tools.

The elevators above the ground will be approximately 154 feet high. The cylinderical barrels of the elevator will be 124 feet high and the headhouse on top of that, another 30 feet. The headhouse will contain the motors, tools and equipment for grain distribution.

The new and modern structure will replace the former sheet iron elevator that was destroyed by fire. Storage capacity of the new elevator will be 133,000 bushels. In addition to the wheat storage and grain sorghum bins, there'll be a syrup pit for storage of molasses to be used for cattle ration during winter months.

Strategic situation of the new elevator will be near the railroad track and only a few feet east of the Taylor-Evans building in the west part of Canyon.

Cross Making Pro Football Record in Chi

Bill Cross, a native of Canadian and a four year letterman in football at West Texas State College, is starting a promising season of professional football with the Chicago Cardinals. During a scrimmage game with the Cardinals, Cross displayed his nimble style of darting and weaving through the line and backfield for a 65-yard gain. Spectators sucked in air and checked their programs to see who this undersized bit of mastery on the gridiron really was.

The record of Bill Cross is not a spontaneous thing. It dates back to high school days in Canadian where he was winner of 12 letters in football, basketball and track. After high school days, Bill was turned down by several Southwest Conference coaches. Coach Frank Kimbrough of West Texas State College recognized Bill as a youth with an athletic future.

Entering West Texas State College, Bill embarked upon an athletic career that sent him spiraling to four football letters. His grand finale at West Texas State was last year when he and Charles Wright piled up a ground-gaining record to top that of the famous Doc Blanchard, Glenn Davis team of the Army football team only a few years back. Cross was also tripping the light fantastic for a First-and-ten with West Texas State when they took their first Border Conference championship. They defeated Cincinnati, 14 to 13, in the Sun Bowl at El Paso last January 1.

According to Eddie McGuire, Cardinal Publicity manager, Bill Cross is going 'Great Guns.' The only note of concern being that one of those 250-pound northwood linemen is apt to suck in a big yawn to swallow the 155-pound plainsman.

OUR APPOINTMENT AS DEALER FOR

FERTILENE
LIQUID FERTILIZER

We are proud to make this announcement in the interest of our customers who are always looking to us for better methods of improving their yields. We are convinced that with the use of the new liquid fertilizer FERTILENE you might increase your production from 10 to 300 per cent.

Recent scientific tests by university experiment stations and farmers show evidence of marked increases in small grain yields when seed grain is treated with liquid fertilizer before planting.

Fertilene liquid fertilizer is a highly concentrated compound made of the finest raw materials needed for plant growth. It is a "super-charged" solution containing 7% Nitrogen, 14% Phosphorus, 7% Potash, plus trace elements of Boran, Magnesium, Manganese, Zinc, Calcium and Iron.

Tests Suggest That Phosphate Soaked Into Seed Is

"60 TIMES MORE EFFICIENT"

Than When Applied To Soil In The Regular Way

By applying Fertilene to your seed grain, you add a great deal of nourishment —ready for the seed to use immediately after germination. This helps develop better root structure and top growth in the early stages. It makes possible an impressive increase in your yield. Fertilene is not a cure-all. But where either the soil or the seed is deficient in elements necessary for growth building, the results have been outstanding.

COSTS LESS THAN 20c PER ACRE

One gallon of Fertilene is diluted with ½ gallon of water. It will treat 12 bushels of wheat, oats, rye or barley seed. The cost is generally less than 20c an acre.

EASY TO USE— NO SPECIAL EQUIPMENT

It is easy to apply Fertilene. Just sprinkle over your seed grain, mix thoroughly on barn floor, tarpaulin or in cement mixer, and allow to dry before planting. Treated seed runs freely through the drill. Fertilene is safe from freezing to 40 degrees below zero.

WHEAT GROWER SAYS:

About your fertilizer, have noticed that the wheat came up faster and grows faster than the unfertilized. And also the best stand I believe I ever had so far. For example, my neighbor planted 80 acres and used the fertilizer and it came right up and kept growing. And in the center he ran out of fertilizer, so he went ahead and planted without the fertilizer. It took that wheat (untreated) about a month to come up to where it looked like any stand at all, and very slow growing. My, what a difference." — G. Mayes, Tea Garden, Okla.

LANGDON, NORTH DAKOTA, EXPERIMENT STATION

Superintendent, Victor Sturlaugson, says: "Recent tests showed a 41.7 bu. per acre wheat yield with application of liquid fertilizer to the seed and 39 bu. per acre from untreated seed—an increase of 2.7 bushels per acre."
